To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of the Students and Staff at Bugg Elementary we would like to ask Papa John's to donate their specialty to help our volunteers and teachers in supporting, promoting and inspiring the students at Bugg Elementary in their efforts to one day attend and graduate from college.

On March 22nd, 2013, we will be joined by over 300 college students from NC State, St. Augustine's, and Shaw Universities to work with our K-5 students to experience modified college courses. College student volunteers will participate with buddy classes to experience events that focus on Academics, Arts, and Athletics. The activities will include participating in modified college courses centered around a visual arts contest, completing mock college applications, and competing in a fitness fun run.

Since the student population at Bugg Elementary is 70% free and reduced lunch and 98% minority we feel that Papa John's presence will further motivate and insure our students that they have a huge team of supporters that reach far from those of family, friends, and teachers. Please help us as we work hard with our student to overcome generational poverty and increase academic success in grades K-12th.

Thanks in advance for your time and support in making ALL of our kids one day College Graduates.

Yours truly,
Tanya L. Stevens
